Sutures Saving Lives in Tanzania

The Tanzanian Red Cross clinic at Makere performed c-sections with sutures provided by Global Links in May. Women who need c-sections have no options, and without sutures, they and their babies can die. These baby girls arrived safely because they had medical care -- and sutures.

Loisi Zakayo, 24, holds her daughter Ajuaye Boazi, born May 25. Loisi is a Congolese refugee living in Nyarugusu camp.

Avarina Ubini, 17, holds her daughter Lilian Mataro, born May 26. Avarina Ubini is a Tanzanian from Makere village near Nyarugusu camp.